Barney Joy Chased from the Game by Umpire Bowers When Old Dispute Arises Over the Big Southpaw's Delivery to First—La Mere Poles Out Two Home Runs and Brings Enough Men Across to Win for the Portuguese

YESTERDAY'S GAMES.
P. A. C. 5, Hawaii 3.
Stars 6, J. A. C. 4.

The Stars and the J. A. C. usually manage to "start something" when they hook up together on the diamond, and yesterday's meeting in the closer of the Senior League double header was no exception to the rule.

In the sixth, with the score 6 to 0 in favor of the Stars, and only two scratch hits garnered off his delivery, Barney Joy was chased out of the game by Umpire Bert Bowers, and when Kibbey replaced him on the mound, the flint that hangs around the Star bench when these two teams are performing came out of retirement and got to the game.

In the inning that saw Barney's finish, Tony Medeiros hit a twisting fly to left that hopped right out of Haole Sumner's glove. Barney pitched a couple of balls to Yamashiro, and then tried to catch the J. A. C. flinger off first. It was the same old motion that was thrashed out at the time of the play-off a month ago, and Bowers called a balk. Barney rushed in like a racing bull, and said something to Bowers which fully justified the official in ordering him from the game. There was a near riot on the field for a few minutes, and when the atmosphere cleared Kibbey came in from short to the mound, while Burns trotted from the bench to the No. 3 station.

Yamashiro laid down a bunt toward the center of the diamond, and as the runners ran in on Kibbey got the ball and, without waiting to see whether the third base was covered, pegged there with all his might to catch Medeiros. As it happened Quibes was within a few feet of the box when the throw was made, so the ball sailed on into left field, while Tony came home with the first run for the Japanese. Yamashiro tried to stretch the error for a score, but was thrown out at the plate. The next two men were easy outs.

Three in the Eighth.

Kibbey settled down and retired the side in one-two-three order in the seventh, and it looked as though the Stars had the game on toast. In the eighth, however, the J. A. C. got their batting eye cleared. Ross led off with a double to right, but Zerbe went out pitcher to first, and Medeiros fanned. Yamashiro drew a pass, and stole second, and then Burns was responsible for a bad error which let in two runs, when he let Chillingworth's hard grounder get between his legs. Kuallit hit, scoring Chilly, but was nabbed when he tried to steal.

The Stars did nothing in their half of the eighth, and the Japanese came up for their last crack full of confidence, and with Kibbey a trifle nervous at having the long lead out in half.

Markham hit, and Burns waited out the wide ones. Then fat Henry Walker rolled up to the plate with a clean-up expression on his open countenance. Burns shifted toward second, for Henry is inclined to hit 'em to right, although a right hander. Walker stung a red hot liner which went square into the glove of the waiting Burns. The latter jumped over to second, forcing Markham, who, thinking it a safe hit, had nearly reached third, and then pegged to first to get Burns, just falling by a fractional second to complete the triple. Ross fanned, and the game was over.

Too Many Rowdies.

Outside of the exciting finish, the most noticeable thing about the game was the rough stuff that was pulled off in the grand stand. When Barney was chased out a couple of rowdies, who, from their general appearance should have been above pulling the hoodlum talk, began to roast Umpire Bowers, and to heap abuse on him and his decisions. Bowers was goaded into turning on his tormentors, which, of course, delighted them. It was the opportunity of a life time for Manager Marcellino to ask a policeman to escort the trouble makers from the grounds. They were a nuisance to those around them and a menace to the sport, and if such stuff is allowed, the attendance is sure to fall off.

Barney Joy, before his forced retirement, hung up a new record, which isn't likely to be equalled for many a day. He secured a batting average of 1.000 with a single, a home run, and a double, on only four pitched balls. In the second and fourth innings he poled the initial offering, and then in the sixth hit at a low one, before stinging the next one for two sacks.

Portuguese Win.

The Portuguese took the Hawaii

log camp, thanks to the slugging of La Mere. The soldier certainly had on his batting clothes, for he managed to sneak two home runs and a two bagger on the score book. His homer in the first was one of the longest hits ever seen on the field, going right over the tree by the scoreboard in deep right. His four sacker in the fifth was close to the foul line.

The fielding feature of the game was the great running catch of Medeiros in the fifth. With men on second and third, Heine Raphael hit a slashing fly to center, in what looked like perfectly safe territory. Medeiros started with the crack of the bat, and just managed to pull off a one-handed stab at full speed. He made a beautiful peg to second, completing the double that retired the side.

Hayes was batted out of the box in the fifth, and Billy Williams finished the game.

LOCAL BOWLERS DROP
MATCH TO MAUI MEN
ON PUUNENE DRIVES

Inter-Island Contest Found Y. M. C. A. Rollers Somewhat Below Regular Form

The Y. M. C. A. alley experts who journeyed to Maui last Saturday to try conclusions with the Puunene rollers, came back with a defeat chalked up against them—the only one that the Honolulu contingent sustained in the athletic carnival held to celebrate the Maui harvest festival. When the scores of the five-man teams were computed for the five games rolled, it was found that Honolulu was just 131 pins short of their opponents.

Gear, Wilkinson, White, Rietow and Dyson represented the local "Y." Of these Gear was the only man to roll up to his true form, getting the splendid average of 190 and a fraction, while the others all rolled below 130 average.

The fact that the Puunene alleys are waxed is given by the locals as part of the cause for their poor showing. They found it impossible to use a curved ball at all, and while they say the Maui drives are very good, they contend that with a little practice on them they could have done better. All the players had a good time, and speak in the highest terms of Valley Island hospitality.

AKANA TELLS OF THE CHINESE PLAYERS

The All-Chinese will be turning their faces homeward soon, but before leaving the East they are annexing a few more games, and leaving a good impression along the line.

The following extracts from a letter received by the Star-Bulletin's sporting editor, from F. L. Akana, give a good idea of what the boys are doing. The missive is dated September 11, N. Y., August 11.

Along, suddenly today to rest up for a day then back to New York to play this coming Saturday and Sunday, the 11th and 12th respectively. Have been cleaning everything up in this part of the country, and for this reason are going strong.

"We left Barre, Vt., for Portland, July 25, and played to a record-breaking crowd, winning a 1 to 0 game in eleven innings. The next day we played the Bennington team and won again, 9 to 8, after another hard eleven inning fight. Again we drew the largest crowd that had ever attended a ball game in the town. At Salem, N. Y., on the 27th, the local team quit in the sixth, after we had run up a score of 15 to 3 against them. On the 28th we went to Gloversville, where we played the Danforths, the best team in town, and won 6 to 3. The next day we went to Amsterdam to play a team called the Empires, and when the game was over the scoreboard showed 8 to 0 in our favor. I can tell you, the people in this part of the country are beginning to take notice of us.

After scalping a few more teams down the line we were again brought up here to play the Gloversville team, who, after 12 innings of hard grinding, managed to win by 2-1.

"Before closing would like to know if there are any chances of getting any games with any team when we get back home. I say any team, because the teams are all in a league and might interfere with their schedule. With Aloha to all, I remain,

"Truly yours,

"F. L. AKANA."

Bunts and Bounders

Quibes, the Stars' new third baseman, showed to good advantage. He made a fine stop of Zerbe's bad bouncer in the fifth, and then pegged beautifully to first without waiting to get set. At bat he seemed a rifle nervous, probably due to the fact that he was performing in strange company.

Chillingworth bluffed Umpire Ralph into giving him a pass in the first.

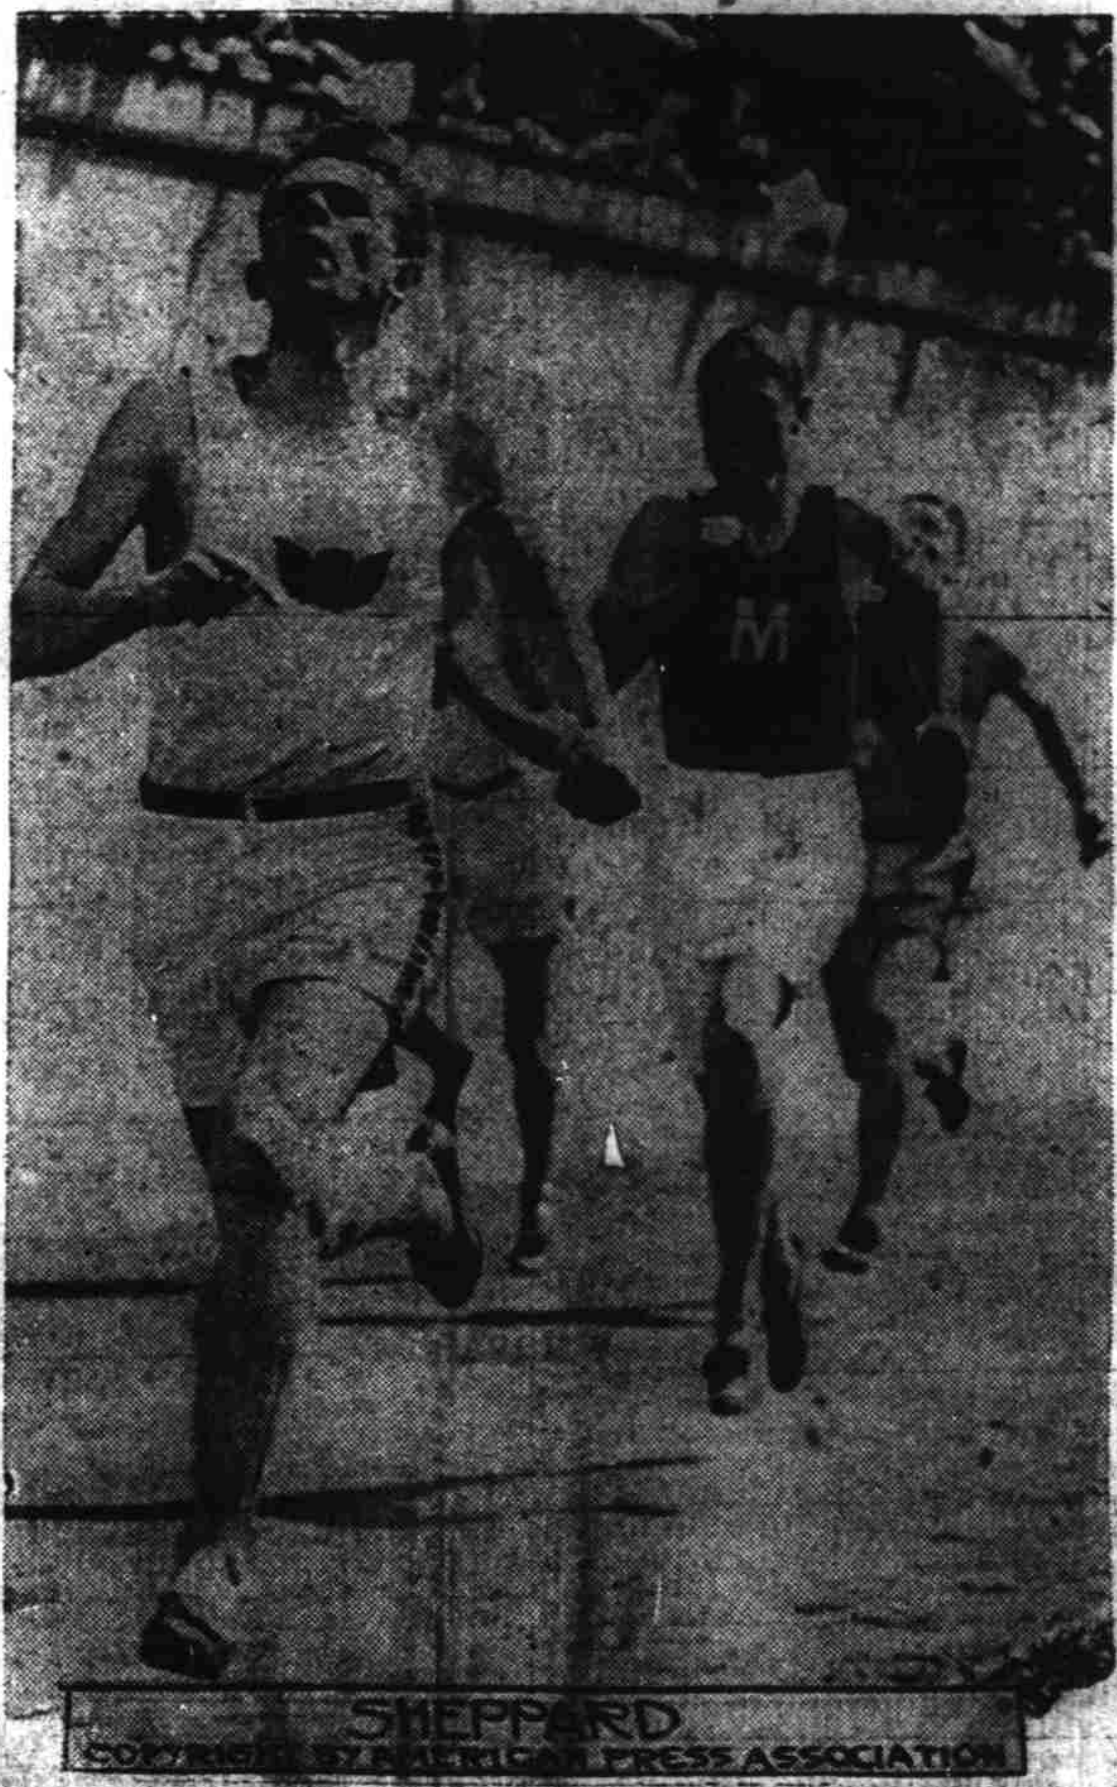

"Scotty" Schuman made a fine peg across the diamond in the first, that caught Chillingworth in an attempted steal.

Annette Kellerman never made a prettier dive than the one over the left-field bleacher performed by Joe Ross.

Kibbey's hit in the second was due to a bad bounce which took the sphere right over Kuallit's head.

Johnny Nascimento made one of the prettiest throws from center to third in the eighth that has been seen this season.

The umpiring was very fair during both games yesterday. McCarthy of the Whites played the keystone sack for the P. A. C.

MEL SHEPPARD COULDN'T STAND MERRIDITH'S PACE

Mel Sheppard, of the Irish-American Athletic Club of New York, was expected to win the 800-meter race at Stockholm, and one of the surprises of the Olympic games was the defeat of the veteran middle-distance runner by Ted Merridith of Mersburg Academy.

Accounts of the race, substantiated by photographs, show that Sheppard was well in the lead until toward the finish, when he was challenged by the school runner, and couldn't stand him off. The picture above shows Merridith overhauling, and about to pass Sheppard.

CHINESE LEAGUE EASTERN PAPER
DRAWS A CROWD BOOSTS CHINESE

The Binghamton, (N. Y.) Republican, gives the Chinese ball players a great send-off. In the issue of August 3 that paper says:

"Billy" Malarkey's All-Stars took a closely contested game with the famous players of the University of Hawaii at Slow Park yesterday afternoon by a score of 7 to 4. The game was an interesting one from every standpoint, several hundred fans turning out to witness the antics of the Mongolians. It was one of those games when the better playing club falls to receive the fruits of victory. The "Chinks" outplayed their opponents in every department save hitting. Their fielding was as good as seen here this season, and their base running was several degrees better than any State League club ever pulled off in this city.

The All-Stars had practically their own way at the bat, hitting hard and timely. Their fielding was of color at several stations, but they breezed through when the Chinks failed to connect at the plate.

The best individual exhibition of base running was given by Third Baseman L. Tin of the Chinese aggregation, who in all, pilfered four bags. His teammate, Catcher A. Anwa, slipped through the All-Stars' defense for an even brace.

The fielding of Shortstop Avau gave the fans at the game the best conception of short-field play seen in Binghamton for some time. All that little Ayau needs to make him fit for a future company is more weight. His fielding yesterday was brilliant, his lightning assists after hard stops, and then the pegs to first were clean cut, every one.

Both the senior and junior crews are now equipped. They will be able to train together, and as there is considerable friendly rivalry, many a hot brush may be expected from now on. The senior crew averages about 180 lbs. and should be able to send the barge through the water at a fast clip.—Maui News.

HONOLULU WINS
TENNIS MATCH
FROM MAUI

The sporting pilgrimage which the Honolulu tennis players made to Maui last Friday resulted in a clean-cut victory for the local players on the turf courts of the Puunene Athletic Club. By a total score of 115 games to 98, the locals avowed their superiority, and after the tennis had been decided, a swimming team composed of men who had taken part in the tournament, contested a relay race with the Valley Islanders, and won that also.

The tennis matches were for male doubles teams, the play being "Maui style," meaning that each match ended when one team had secured 16 games, and that the total games of all matches, counted in the general result.

W. P. Roth and Walter Dillingham, the new Hawaiian champions, decided at the last moment to make the trip, and playing as first string for Honolulu they had the distinction of having the least number of games scored against them in the three sets. The soft turf courts didn't bother the locals as much as might be expected, and all made a good showing.

The tennis was played Saturday morning, the Honolulu players leaving this city on the Honolulu Friday night, and returning yesterday morning.

Following were the tennis scores: Roth and Dillingham beat Myers and Richardson (M), 6-0, 6-1, 6-4; Castle and Lowrey beat Collins and Stevenson (M), 6-2, 6-2, 6-5; Sayge and Mellor (M) beat Waterhouse and Judd, 1-6, 6-3, 6-5; Horner and Anderson beat Lindsay and Rosecrans (M), 6-4, 6-4, 6-3; Gibb and W. H. Hoogs, Jr., beat Taylor and Imray (M), 6-0, 6-1, 6-5; Rice and Larnette (M) beat Withington and Greenwell, 6-2, 6-2, 6-3; Barnes and L. Dowsett beat Walsh and Baldwin (M), 6-4, 4-6, 6-1; Pratt and Seardy (M) beat H. S. Gray and Watson 6-0, 6-1, 5-6.

Swimmers Speedy.

The Honolulu swimming team was composed of Withington, Gibb, Hoogs, Waterhouse, Dillingham, and Roth. The finish was sensational, Roth, who was slated to swim the last length of the tank, starting about 5 yards to the bad on the 25-yard lap. He overhauled his man and won by a yard, swimming so desperately that he butted his head into the concrete wall of the tank at the finish.

MAUI IS BOOSTING FOR DUKE KAHANAMOKU FUND

The people of Maui started the Kahanamoku fund, and it is up to the people of Maui to see it pushed through to success. The concert and dance to be given next Saturday night by the Kaia orchestra, is for the purpose of raising money to add to the fund, and is worthy the support of everyone. The concert will be given at the Wailuku Orpheum, and in addition, other local talent will perform and add their little bit to the cause. The management of the theatre will put on some excellent reels, and do everything possible to boost the affair along. After the concert a dance will be given at the gymnasium. The entire net proceeds will be turned over to the First National Bank, where the money already collected is on deposit. If everyone adds their bit, and helps along this worthy enterprise quite a substantial sum should be realized.—Maui News.

PLAY-OFF

Batting Rally in the Ninth Brings in Enough Runs to Win by Margin of One—Williams Walks Fourteen but Wins

The first game of the two-in-three series that is to decide the winners of the first half of the Junior League series, which the Whites and Asahi Juniors made a dead heat of, was won by the former team yesterday morning by a score of 11 to 10. The contest was a hummer, and was featured by heavy sticking and brilliant fielding stunts, although, from the standpoint of scientific baseball, there was a good deal lacking.

The Whites were any kind of their best men, Ralph, McCarthy, A. Ornelas and Foster Davis being out of the lineup. White partisans looked blue up to the final spasm, when a batting rally was started that netted five hits and four runs. Cavaco's slugging double with the sacks crowded doing the trick.

Two fine running catches by Yamashiro were the fielding features of the game, while Henry Williams established something new in the way of record by issuing 14 passes, and still getting away with the game. The U. A. U. and J. A. C. Juniors played a five-inning curtain raiser, which was won by the former.
